Q+A with Morris "Maury" Nunes '70

'The Impact of Phi Phi on My Life Has Been Enormous,' He Says

Morris "Maury" Nunes '70 is president of BoardBoost™ Corporate Governance Seminars. After practicing and teaching business law for 25 years, he has branched out into working in the boardrooms of the top profit and nonprofit corporations nationwide, consulting and instructing on the do's and don'ts of corporate governance and what each chairman and director must know about the new laws.

The following is a brief Q&A interview with Maury:

Why did you join the fraternity?

I had heard of Sigma Chi and was flattered to be rushed. The upperclassmen impressed me, and I felt the fraternity stood out as one to which the brothers seemed far more committed than in other fraternities. The history and heritage also seemed to me to be so rich that I genuinely felt privileged to be offered a pledge pin.

What is your favorite memory of the fraternity?

There are too many memories to pick out just one, but I can say without a doubt that being elected consul was a genuine honor and one that I treasure to this day.

What kind of influence has the fraternity had on your life?

In a very real sense, the impact was enormous. When I pledged Phi Phi, I was truly a 17-year-old kid. The challenges of pledging and serving the fraternity as editor, treasurer and president gave me experience in dealing with people of "different talents, temperaments and convictions," and gave me a level of self confidence that carries through to this day. At the same time, Sigma Chi was the focal point of my undergraduate life and was a wonderful home at college.

With whom do you stay in contact?

Gary Eames '70, Ron Huling '70, Ron Fryrear '70, George Morriss '69 and Bill Schmidt '69, in particular. E-mail chains have now renewed a number of other contacts.

Tell us about your family.

My son, Ryan, is a junior at Penn but found he was drawn to Phi Sigma Kappa. My daughter is a high school freshman. Janie, my college sweetheart and wife of 32 years, died of liver cancer in the summer of 2002, leaving an enormous hole in my life. To the extent one can recover, I guess I am about there. As we were in love throughout college, I have many fond memories of Janie with me at Sigma Chi.

What other activities or organizations were you involved with during your college days?

Interfraternity Council, Connaissance (speakers' bureau), intramural sports and several other clubs. I also worked, first with a brokerage firm and then with Fidelity Bank, as a securities and portfolio analyst during my last two years at Penn.

What is your nickname and how did you get it?

"Mort" — but it must be said with a particular inflection. Like a rebel yell, it must be heard to be appreciated and understood; it does not lend itself to narrative description. Suffice it to say that it may perhaps be imagined — as inflected with an appropriate amount of incentivizing alcohol.

State of the Chapter

As fall 2004 continues in high gear and heads for a close, it is a good time to take a look back. We started the semester in late August as everyone returned from their time apart. Brothers filled the house as if we had never left.

This semester the house has taken on a new face, or an old one, depending on how you look at it. Several seniors have moved back to the place of their beginnings with the Phi Phi Chapter, in the humble abode at 3809 Locust Walk. It has been great living with these men again, and the addition of the sophomores infused new life in the chapter.

Jon Greenawalt '61 visited campus again this fall to put on his leadership development program for the chapter. Jon has been coordinating this program for several years now and has become a great asset to the chapter. Many brothers attended the workshop including officers Dan Tyrrell '05, Nick Gianos '05, Scott Brown '05 and me, as well as several juniors and sophomores. Ted Pitt, who is grand praetor of the mid-Atlantic region, also stopped down from Columbia for the weekend to help facilitate discussions and give his insights into leadership.

The Phi Phi Chapter was also lucky enough to be part of the pilot program called "Choices," on the effects of alcohol and ways to help peers if issues arise. Brothers participated in the program, which is in its early stages and is headed by Andy Hughes, a representative from international headquarters.

The brotherhood now stands 51 strong, and we wish everyone a happy holiday season! ■

Homecoming was awesome!

A Strong Homecoming 2004

Homecoming 2004 was a great success. The chapter was excited about the strong turnout. Many recent alumni were back to enjoy the festivities, and their continued involvement is greatly appreciated by the chapter. We were very glad to welcome back Al Shoemaker '60, Murray McComas '58, Jamie Allen '02, Tom Valenti '00 and Michael Hsu '03. Also coming back was David Griffith '02, who recently returned from working for the Peace Corps in Kenya.

The day began with breakfast and refreshments at the chapter house before the football game. The Quakers decisively defeated Columbia 14-3, continuing their undefeated season in the Ivy League with the help of Douglas Middleton '06 who had five tackles and a fumble recovery.

Following the game, many brothers returned to the house for a dinner catered by the house chef. All in all, it was a great day! ■

Phenomenal Intramural Football

For the past six weeks, seven athletic men from the Phi Phi Chapter of Sigma Chi (none of whom are on varsity athletic teams) have been competing in the fraternity recreation league, playing intramural flag football. As usual, there hasn't been a close game, and Sigma Chi has given up only two touchdowns in three games — both were pure luck, of course.

With a star quarterback in Matt Berman '06 running around like his head is cut off combined with receivers like Brian Cosio '07 and Chris Gumiela '06, the team is unstoppable. So far, we are 4-0 and plan to take the playoffs by storm. Look for our championship article in the spring issue of this newsletter. ■

Opportunities

Greek Leadership Opportunities

The following appears on the Web site of the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs at the University of Pennsylvania:

The University of Pennsylvania's Greek community is dedicated to building leaders. Fraternities and sororities provide their members with a unique opportunity to explore leadership through real-life situations. Each fraternity and sorority is a self-governing organization that offers its members the opportunity to take an active role in guiding the organization. Chapter members learn to work in groups, problem solve, make decisions and plan activities. Leadership roles within chapters provide members with even more exposure to the world of leadership by teaching delegation, time management and networking skills. These skills will not only set you apart in your future job searches but can aid you in leading a fulfilling and rewarding life.

A number of leadership development programs are offered throughout the year for Greek leaders. Semesterly President's Retreats are designed to increase the knowledge and abilities of chapter presidents. Workshops are also held for various chapter positions like alumni relations, recruitment, social, and new member educators. Participation in the Greek governing organizations also provides Greek leaders with more opportunities to further their leadership skills and work with a larger community. On a national scale, each fraternity and sorority offers leadership schools/academies or conventions to its members during the summer months. This is a great way to network with other members and alumni of your organization across the country.

Greek students are involved in a wide variety of campus activities from student government to honor societies, performing arts groups to varsity sports. In addition to the fraternities and sororities, there are over 300 registered student organizations at Penn in which Greek members are involved as members and as leaders. If you wish to be involved on campus and desire real-life opportunities to test your leadership skills, there is no better way than becoming affiliated with a fraternity or sorority at the University of Pennsylvania. ■

Morris "Maury" Nunes '70

Did you live at the house? If so, who were your roommates? Tell us a memorable time with them.

I lived in the fraternity house for all three years. Bill Leopardi '70 was my roommate for the first semester of sophomore year, but a single became available at year end, and from then on I had a single. Playing football on our knees in the hallway is one of those memories (bloody knees and all) that tends to stay with one.

Tell us a little about what you do for a living.

I practice law, teach in Georgetown's MBA program and Catholic University's law school, and provide seminars on corporate governance for boards of directors through BoardBoost, a company I own.

What affiliations do you currently have and/or public service do you participate in?

In addition to my teaching, here are other activities in which I've been engaged:

- Six years as the governor-appointed chairman of the Virginia Board for Professional & Occupational Regulation overseeing commercial licensing in the state,
- Supreme Court hearing officer arbitrating employment and other regulated disputes within the Virginia government as appointed by the Virginia Supreme Court,
- Medical malpractice panel member in Virginia evaluating medical malpractice claims under the aegis of the Virginia Supreme Court,
- Republican politics, serving in a variety of capacities, including delegate to state conventions and on campaign research/policy staffs for various candidates,
- Exhibits judge for National History Day finals and various science fairs and law school moot court competitions,
- Alpha Literary & Philosophical Society,

- International Churchill Societies,
- Pro bono legal counsel to Phi Phi, and
- Life-loyal Sig.

What hobbies do you enjoy?

Squash, racquetball, biking and golf. Writing (five books and about 50 articles published to date). Pool (a carryover from Phi Phi days) and snooker. Waterskiing and sailing during summers. Reading nonfiction.

What are your goals for the next few years?

To put my life fully back together since my wife's death. To spend more time teaching, both through BoardBoost and the universities with which I am affiliated. To make sure my children get through school and well launched on their own adulthoods.

Is there anything else you feel your brothers may enjoy reading about you? Any words of wisdom for the undergraduates?

It has been almost 35 years now since graduating, and I am still as proud as ever to call myself a Sigma Chi. It is one of the things I ask about when I interview prospective employees and one of the issues I raise when I meet new clients. Most remarkably, perhaps, when I've visited Phi Phi, I've always had the feeling that if I could make myself college age again, I'd have no trouble moving in and feeling at home with whomever constituted the current classes of brothers, and that is a feeling I never want to lose.

Sigma Chi and Phi Phi (and Penn, too) seem to me to be opportunities that provide a multiple return on what one puts into them, but you've got to put something in to reap the full rewards. I cannot say enough about how those institutions have underpinned my life.

(901 Mt. Lebanon Rd., Wilmington, DE 19803; durham45@comcast.net) Age 90 and spend most of the year in Costa Rica and partly in France.

Joseph A. Goodhue '39

(683 Main St., Leominster, MA 01453) I just retired. I spend winters at Gulf View Club in Marco Island, Fla. My health is good, and I had my 90th birthday party at the Sheraton Hotel with 125 friends celebrating. John Bath '42 and Les Giegerich '40, and their sweethearts, helped celebrate with me. I hope they will join me for my 100th. Keep up the Sigma Chi spirit.

Roberto De Toro '40

(Palma Real 15G-H, 2 Madrid St., San Juan, PR 00907) I continue to do well at age 85. I live in San Juan with my wife, Sylvia, two sons and two daughters. God willing, I expect to attend the May 2005 class reunion in Philadelphia. I would like to hear of any of my 1940 brothers who are planning to attend so that we may arrange to see each other at our 3809 Locust fraternity.

H. Samuel Greenawalt '51

(2600 W. Big Beaver, Troy, MI 48084) I was recently honored to receive the Penn Football Club's Man of the Year Award.

George S. Bowden '53

(12 Hubbard Park, Red Bank, NJ 07701-2324; pkgnet@monmouth.com) I am retired from my career in cosmetic packaging and am now expanding my interest in ceramics and sculpture. Pictured here is one section of a seven-foot ceramic totem pole inspired by my interest in Northwest Indian tribal customs. Also, sent me photos of his 50th class reunion in May including brothers Toby Silvester '54, Jim Killerkane, Penny Hallenbeck '54 and John Hoffsommer '54. They had not changed a lick! If you believe that, there is a fire sale for the Brooklyn Bridge.

Norm Wohlken '54

Edmund Auer '54

(23128 Park Sorrento, Calabasas, CA 91302-1736; nowisauer@aol.com) Fully retired for 10 years. It's a fulltime occupation, shared with Peggy, keeping track of 10 children and 25 grandchildren. We split our time between Southern California in the winter and upstate New York in the summer. Would enjoy to be in e-mail contact.

James B. Kahl '54

(12010 Antietam Dr., Loveland, OH 45140-7143) In 2001 my wife, Jane, died in Cincinnati. In 2002 I went to a friend's 70th surprise birthday party, and a girl I had gone steady with for six years came from NYC to her 50th high school reunion. We hadn't seen or spoken to each other in 49 years. Grace and I were married on May 31, 2003, and have attended two Mungermen reunions in Philadelphia. My 3-year-old grandson, Casey Kahl, has a genetic fatal disease called Niemann Pick-C. I have been hosting a research-oriented Ara Parseghian Golf Tournament for two years and have raised $300,000.

Fergus M. Sloan '54

(304 E. 65th St., #34-C, New York, NY 10021) I received several photos from Norm Wohlken '54, and I must say the brothers looked, well, older.

Norman J. Wohlken '54

(P.O. Box 41, Gualala, CA 95445-0041; wohlken@mcn.org) My wife, Martha, and I retired from The Dreyfus Corporation and Security Pacific Bank (now B. of A.) in 1991. We live at The Sea Ranch, Calif., between the ocean and the redwoods. We travel frequently on the QE-2. In 2001 we enjoyed the Friars Senior Society's 100th anniversary in Philadelphia where we saw brother Sesto Vecchi '58, who came from Vietnam. This year was the 50th reunion of the class of 1954 at Penn, and memories were relived with brothers Jim Kahl '54, Peter DeMir '54, Prentiss Hallenbeck '54, John Hoffsommer '54 and Ed Silvester '54.

James C. Cacheris '55

(8343 Queen Elizabeth Blvd., Annandale, VA 22003-4457; jcache@cox.net) I am still working as a senior U.S. district judge in Alexandria, Va. George Washington University awarded me the Distinguished Alumni Achievement Award on May 15, 2004. My wife, Sally, and I have four children and eight grandchildren.

Fred A. Sbrilli '56

(1607 Hwy. 27, Edison, NJ 08817) I'm trying to locate a brother who may have a condo for sale in Naples, Fla. Even though I am officially retired, I still find myself going to my real estate office daily and doing as much work as I ever did before. At the same time, I keep busy looking after my various properties in the hopes that my son, Chris (Florida State, Sigma Chi), may one day want to take over. That is, once he completes his Ph.D at the University of Berlin. Life has been very good to my family and me. God has blessed us. I trust the same is true with all the brothers of the finest fraternity in the world. God bless America!

Ronald Smith '59

(Roemerstrasse 14d, 35510 Butzbach, Germany; rbsmith@t-online.de) Residing in Butzbach and Berlin, Germany. Retired. Married, two daughters. Currently president of the Youth Symphony Orchestra of the State of Hesse, Germany. In close contact with Edward W. Fallon '59.

Robert A. Gleason Jr. '61

(552 Elknud Ln., Johnstown, PA 15905; rgleasonjr@gleasoninc.com) I am a trustee of Penn; chairman and CEO of The Gleason Group in Johnstown; chairman and acting CEO of Memorial Medical Center, Johnstown; and chairman of the Cambria County Republican Committee.

Jon L. Greenawalt '61

(4050 Stoneleigh Rd., Bloomfield Hills, MI 48302-2018; jgreenawalt@pioneermanagement.com,) I have been in the "people business" all my adult life, working for two major international corporations from 1963 until 1974. In 1974 I entered the consulting profession, and in 1987 founded and still work fulltime with Personal Mastery Programs (www.pmpcoach.com) in Detroit, Mich., a leadership development and business coaching consulting firm. For the fourth year in a row, I am conducting a Leadership Development Project for the undergraduate officer team, with the help of Tom Valenti '00, Marc Lambright (Penn State, Sig '91) and Reed Werner '01. This year, we're also being helped out by the new grand praetor for the Eastern Province, Ted Pitt.

My wife, Mary Ann (Wharton '62), continues as president of her own gourmet food brokerage business, now going on for 21 years with a team of 12 people covering five Midwestern states! Jon Greenawalt Jr. '91, his wife, Jennifer, and their two children, Allegra (4) and Julian (2 1/2), live in Bryn Mawr. Those grandchildren are the "apples of our eyes," and of course we don't spoil them at all. Our daughter, Cindy (Penn '87), lives with her husband, Eddy, in Hollywood, Fla. We spend the Christmas season in Mexico and August in New Hampshire.

The experience and training I received as an undergraduate officer at Phi Phi provided the base of leadership skills I have been using and building on all my life. It's great to be a Sig!

Warner B. Clarke '63

(7314 E. Solano Dr., Scottsdale, AZ 85250; lorri.clarke3@gte.net) We have been realtors in the Phoenix-Scottsdale area for over 12 years. I am an active member of Phoenix Sigma Chi Alumni Club. We became new grandparents last Christmas. We enjoy living in a warm desert area.

William J. Travis '68

(6425 Wydown Blvd., St. Louis, MO 63105) My son, Glennon, who graduated from Tulane last year and now works in NYC, was a member of Sigma Chi at Tulane.

George Morriss '69

(61 E. Gate Rd., Guilford, CT 06437; gmorriss@aol.com) On Saturday, October 23, I went to the Penn/Yale football game with my son, Gregg, and fellow Phi Phis Bill Schmidt '69 and Paul Hiller '65. We had a terrific time as the Quakers set the Ivy League records for most consecutive victories at 18.

Morris Nunes '70

(9220 Briary Ln., Fairfax, VA 22031-3870; man.apc@verizon.net) I have two webcasts completed in a series of five on TV-worldwide.com for non-profit governance under my new entity, BoardBoost Seminars, providing corporate governance seminars to all kinds of organizations. I also continue to practice law, teach in Catholic University's law school and in Georgetown University's MBA program. I recently moved to Cabin John, Md., but continue to have offices in Falls Church, Va. I can be reached by e-mail at man.apc@verizon.net or mnunes@BoardBoost.com.

Richard P. Klich '71

(1056 Brookwood Dr., Mechanicsburg, PA 17055; NDQA@aol.com) I have left the rat race in Washington, D.C., and international biotech and am presently vice president of Delta Dental of Pa. (N.Y., D.C., Md., Del., W.V.) near Harrisburg. The most difficult transition has been no Nordstrom's, Bloomingdale's or Starbucks on every third corner. Other than that ... I'm fat and happy. Aryn will be graduating from Penn this year and attending York College in England to pursue a master's in medieval studies. She just got accepted. Avryl will be graduating from the Culver Academies in Indiana, and (hopefully) heading east for college. Adriana has continued to put up with me while putting together financial deals with banks, mortgage companies and the feds. Mel, Frank, Al, Jim, et al. — check in once in awhile while we still can! Maury, my sincerest sympathy, as I just recently found out. My heart aches.

Merle R. Stein '71

(9 Timber Bluff Ct., Glen Carbon, IL 62034; mstein@uss.com) I am currently in my 34th year with U.S. Steel, where I am the general manager of U.S. Steel Granite City Works. GCW was one of National Steel's primary plants prior to the U.S. Steel purchase of National in May 2003. I returned to the U.S. in late 2002 from a two-year assignment as vice president of operations of U.S. Steel Kosice, an integrated steel company in eastern Slovakia that U.S. Steel purchased in late 2001. The Kosice assignment was especially challenging, dealing with the language issues as well as significant cultural differences, but it did afford us the opportunity to travel. I am looking forward to retirement (or just doing something different) in the next several years. Andrea and I are happy to announce that all three kids are married and off the payroll.

Phil Kozlowski '78

(2861 Mead St., Yorktown Heights, NY 10598; phil.kozlowski@hal.hitachi.com) I'm living in Yorktown Heights, N.Y., with my wife and 10-year-old son. Unusual as it may seem to my classmates, I've been a New Yorker now for 17 years. I work for Hitachi America Ltd. as the director for corporate human resources. I've been here 25 years, and my work has taken me to Japan on numerous occasions, as well as Ireland and throughout the U.S. I'd love to hear what Phi Phis from 1976-80 are doing. I visit Penn twice a year, and the house looks great. It's not the same without our buddy John Wilson, though.

William N. Preucel '81

(728 Colorado Ave., Palo Alto, CA 94303-3911) I enjoy following the public talks of professor Larry Lessig '83 on the Internet and the Society at Stanford's Aurora Forum. Nothing really new with me. I ride the bike six miles per year and cook and read. No progress in the marriage department. Took a splendid five-week trip to India to see both coasts and went north to the Himalayas and south to Tamil Nadu. Enjoyed riding one-speed 28"-wheel Indian bikes reminiscent of my old 1945 Rudge.

John P. Stevens '84

(8425 Avonside Ct., East Amherst, NY 14051; john_stevens@praxair.com) Recently our family moved from Connecticut to western New York.

Kevin E. Tighe '84

(12819 Fenwick Island Ct. E., Jacksonville, FL 32224) My wife, Tammy, and I have three great children. We are keeping busy with friends, family and work.

John F. Weinkopf '84

(Rua Vinicius de Moraes, 221/401, Ipanema, RJ, Brazil 22411-010; jweinkopf@ig.com.br) Here in Rio de Janeiro I recently cofounded the Brazilian Beer Cultural Center to further my homebrewing hobby.

Andrew K. Stevens '00

(1328-1/4 14th St., Santa Monica, CA 90404; getmetwo@gmail.com) Fellow classmate and brother, Matthew Reilly '00, and I recently started a video production company in Van Nuys, Calif., called Crevasse Entertainment. We are focusing primarily on home entertainment but could delve into limited theatrical releases. We recently signed Bunny LaJolla and Tad Inwood to two-year development deals and things are on the up and up. Now that our financing is stiffly in place we can really focus on creating some quality entertainment. ■
